Actions

Attack. SRD

- Melee and/or ranged attack (see reach). Some features allow multiple attacks.
- Grapple: with a free hand, you grab a target no more than one size larger than you. It makes a Strength or Dexterity saving throw (its choice) against DC 8 + your Strength modifier + your Proficiency Bonus; on a failure, it has the Grappled condition. To escape: action + Strength (Athletics) or Dexterity (Acrobatics) check against the same DC. The grapple ends if you are Incapacitated, if the target leaves your reach, or if you release it (no action).
- Shove: (same saving throw as for Grapple). You knock a creature (no more than one size larger than you) Prone or push it 5 feet away.

Dash. SRD When you take the Dash action, you gain extra movement for the current turn. The increase equals your Speed after applying any modifiers.

Disengage. SRD Your movement doesn't provoke Opportunity Attacks for the rest of the turn.

Dodge. SRD Until the start of your next turn, attack rolls against you have Disadvantage if you can see the attacker, and you have Advantage on Dexterity saving throws. You lose this benefit if you are Incapacitated or if your Speed is 0.

Help. SRD

- Assist an Attack Roll. You momentarily distract an enemy within 5 feet of you, granting Advantage on the next attack roll made by one of your allies against that enemy. This Advantage expires at the start of your next turn.
- Assist an Ability Check. Choose one of your skills or a tool and an ally close enough for you to help verbally or physically when they make an ability check. That ally has Advantage on the next ability check they make with the chosen skill or tool. This Advantage expires if not used before the start of your next turn. The DM has the final say on whether your help is possible.

Hide. SRD Conditions: you must be Heavily Obscured or behind Three-Quarters or Total Cover, and out of any enemy's line of sight. Make a Dexterity (Stealth) check, DC 15; on a success, you have the Invisible condition. The total of your check is the DC for a creature to spot you with a Wisdom (Perception) check.

- Hiding ends if you make a sound louder than a whisper, an enemy finds you, you make an attack, or you cast a spell with a Verbal component.

Influence. SRD Make a Charisma check (Deception, Intimidation, Performance, or Persuasion) or a Wisdom (Animal Handling) check to alter a creature's attitude.

Magic. SRD Your action lets you cast a spell, use a feature, or activate a magic item that requires the Magic action.

- During a turn, you can expend only one spell slot to cast a spell. For example, you can't cast a spell using a spell slot with the Magic action and another using a spell slot with a Bonus Action in the same turn.

Ready. SRD You wait for a specific circumstance before acting, which lets you use your Reaction to act before the start of your next turn.

- You must decide what perceivable circumstance will trigger your Reaction.
- Choose the response to the trigger: an action or a movement (not both). If you choose a spell, it must have a casting time of one action, and you must concentrate on it until you cast it.

Search. SRD When you take the Search action, you make a Wisdom check to discern something that isn't obvious.

- Examples: an Insight check to discern a creature's state of mind – a Medicine check to diagnose an illness or a cause of death – a Perception check to spot a hidden creature or object – a Survival check to track a creature or find food.

Study. SRD When you take the Study action, you make an Intelligence check to examine your memory, a book, a clue, or another source of knowledge and recall important information about it.

Utilize. SRD Some objects require the Utilize action, for example to don or doff a shield. This action is also required if you want to interact with more than one object during your turn, in addition to your free interaction.

Bonus Actions SRD

- Various class features, spells, and other abilities let you take an extra action on your turn called a Bonus Action. The Cunning Action feature, for example, lets a Rogue take a Bonus Action.
- You can take a Bonus Action only when a class feature, spell, or other game feature says you can do something as a Bonus Action. Otherwise, you don't have a Bonus Action to take.
- You can take only one Bonus Action per turn, so you must choose which one to use if you have several available.
- You choose when to take a Bonus Action during your turn, unless its timing is specified. Anything that deprives you of the ability to take actions also prevents you from taking a Bonus Action.

Reactions SRD

- Some special abilities, spells, and situations let you take a special action called a Reaction. A Reaction is an instant response to a trigger of some kind, which can occur on your turn or on someone else's. The Opportunity Attack is the most common type of Reaction.
- When you take a Reaction, you can't take another one until the start of your next turn. If the Reaction interrupts another creature's turn, that creature can continue its turn right after the Reaction.
- For timing, a Reaction happens immediately after its trigger, unless the Reaction's description says otherwise.
