Level 3 – Evocation
Casting Time: Action · Range: 150 feet
Components: V, S, M (a ball of bat guano and sulfur) · Duration: Instantaneous
Classes: Sorcerer, Wizard

A bright streak flashes from you to a point you choose within range and then blossoms with a low roar into an explosion of flame. Each creature in a 20-foot-radius Sphere centered on that point makes a Dexterity saving throw. On a failed save, a creature takes 8d6 Fire damage; on a successful one, half.

Flammable objects in the area that aren't being worn or carried start burning.

Higher-level slot: the damage increases by 1d6 for each slot level above 3.

🎲 Quick summary:

1. You choose a point within 150 ft.
2. Each creature in the 20-ft-radius Sphere makes a Dexterity save.
3. Failure: 8d6 Fire. Success: half.
4. Flammable objects that aren't worn or carried start burning.

⚠ Flaw in the rule and fixes Table rule

The text doesn't say how the Sphere behaves against walls and corners. Fix: the DM announces before the game how cover and the area's shape are handled.

💡 Narrative option: Table rule

The DM can describe an orange streak, a detonation shaking the ground, a wave of heat.

Step 1 – Choose the point:

A point within 150 ft. The Sphere has a 20-ft radius.

Step 2 – Dexterity saves:

Each creature in the Sphere makes a Dexterity save against your spell save DC.

Step 3 – Damage:

Failure: 8d6 Fire damage. Success: half.

Step 4 – Objects:

Flammable objects in the area, not worn or carried, start burning.

Example: Eliot (DC 15) casts Fireball on five goblins. Dexterity 10 against 15: two fail (8d6 = 28 each), three succeed (14 each).

⚠ Common questions:

Is an attack roll needed?

No: a Dexterity saving throw.

How much damage?

8d6 Fire, half on a success.

What area?

A 20-ft-radius Sphere.

What range?

150 ft.

Are allies hit?

Yes, any creature in the area.

Does it ignite objects?

Yes, those not worn or carried.

Does it scale?

Yes: +1d6 per slot level above 3.

⚠ Debate points and table options: Table rule

Corners and walls

The text doesn't say if the blast turns corners. Option: the Sphere is blocked by walls; or it wraps around corners.

Cover

Creatures behind cover? Option: cover adds its bonus to the Dexterity save (see the cover rules).

Allies

The area hits everyone. Option: no exceptions for allies.

Burning objects

Unworn objects start burning. Option: the DM decides on further fire damage.

Measuring

The 20-ft Sphere is centered on the point. Option: measure on a grid in 5-ft squares.

⚠ Rule clarifications (answers found on the web, reworded):

Point of origin

The caster chooses the point of origin: they can place it to spare allies.

Readied spell

A readied spell spends its slot when readied; the target must be in range when the trigger occurs.
