Level 1 – Enchantment
Casting Time: Action · Range: 30 feet
Components: V, S · Duration: 1 hour
Classes: Bard, Druid, Sorcerer, Warlock, Wizard

You target a Humanoid you can see within range. It makes a Wisdom saving throw, with Advantage if you or your allies are fighting it. On a failed save, it has the Charmed condition until the spell ends or until you or your allies damage it. While Charmed, it regards you as a friendly acquaintance.

When the spell ends, it knows it was Charmed by you.

Higher-level slot: each slot level above 1 lets you target one additional creature.

🎲 Quick summary:

1. You target a visible Humanoid within 30 ft.
2. Wisdom save (Advantage if it or its allies are fighting you).
3. Failure: Charmed for 1 hour unless you or your allies damage it.
4. It regards you as a friend; at the end it knows it was Charmed.

⚠ Change from 2014

In 2014, the target didn't clearly remember being charmed. In 2024, it knows it was Charmed when the spell ends.

⚠ Flaw in the rule and fixes Table rule

The text doesn't say how far the target's goodwill goes: the Charmed condition only forbids harming the caster. Fix: stick to the Charmed condition and "friend".

💡 Narrative option: Table rule

The DM can describe a suddenly warm smile, a disarmed gaze, an unexplained trust.

Step 1 – Choose the target:

A Humanoid you can see within 30 ft.

Step 2 – Wisdom save:

The target makes a Wisdom save, with Advantage if you or your allies are fighting it.

Step 3 – Failure: Charmed:

The target is Charmed (see the condition) and regards you as a friend.

Step 4 – End of the spell:

After 1 hour, or if you or your allies damage it. It then knows it was Charmed.

Example: Maëlle casts Charm Person on a guard who isn't fighting her. Wisdom 9 against 14: a failure, he thinks she's a friend. An hour later, he realizes he was charmed.

⚠ Debate points and table options: Table rule

What a friend does

The Charmed condition doesn't grant control: the target doesn't obey dangerous orders. Option: the DM decides what a Charmed target agrees to do.

Knowing afterward

The target knows it was Charmed. Option: the DM decides its reaction (anger, shame, grudge).

Damage from allies

Damage from the caster's allies ends the spell. Option: keep it.

Several Humanoids

A higher-level slot allows several targets. Option: all within the caster's range.

⚠ Rule clarifications (answers found on the web, reworded):

Ending the spell

The caster can voluntarily end a spell that isn't instantaneous; Dispel Magic can also dispel it.
