INVISIBLE (5E, 2024 RULES) – DESCRIPTION

An invisible creature isn't necessarily impossible to find. It all depends on what you know about its position and what you can perceive.

Under the 2024 rules, invisibility is handled by the Invisible condition. It applies both to a creature made invisible by a spell (such as Invisibility) and to a character who succeeds on the Hide action.

⚠ The Invisible condition:

- Initiative: if you are Invisible when you roll Initiative, you have Advantage on the roll.
- Concealed: you aren't affected by any effect that requires its target to be seen, unless the effect's creator can perceive you some other way. Your equipment is concealed too.
- Attacks: attack rolls against you have Disadvantage, and your attack rolls have Advantage. A creature that perceives you anyway doesn't grant you this benefit.

🎲 Quick summary:

1. Hiding: the Hide action, a DC 15 Dexterity (Stealth) check, in a place that allows it.
2. On a success, the creature is Invisible as long as it stays hidden.
3. To find it: the Search action, a Wisdom (Perception) check against the Stealth result.
4. Until it is found, attacking it has Disadvantage and it attacks you with Advantage.

⚠ Change from 2014

Hiding now uses a fixed DC of 15 and grants the Invisible condition, instead of a roll contested by passive Perception. Being Invisible also gives Advantage on Initiative.

⚠ Flaw in the rule and fixes Table rule

The 2024 rules don't say how to guess the position of an invisible creature, or what happens if the attacker guesses wrong. Tables interpret this differently. Fix: the DM announces before combat the table rules on the next page.

💡 Narrative option: Table rule

The DM can describe the clues that give the creature away: movement in the air, dust being kicked up, rain running down an invisible body, footprints, breathing, the clank of armor.

INVISIBLE (5E, 2024 RULES) – HOW TO PLAY

Step 1 – Identify the source of invisibility:

- Spell or item: the creature has the Invisible condition until the effect ends.
- Hide action: it is Invisible as long as it stays hidden.

Step 2 – Hiding:

The creature succeeds on a DC 15 Dexterity (Stealth) check while Heavily Obscured or behind Three-Quarters Cover or Total Cover, and out of any enemy's line of sight.

⚠ It stops being hidden if it makes a sound louder than a whisper, if an enemy finds it, if it makes an attack roll, or if it casts a spell with a Verbal component.

Step 3 – Locating it:

An observer uses the Search action: a Wisdom (Perception) check. It must meet or beat the creature's Stealth result.

Example: a rogue gets 17 on Stealth. A guard (Wisdom +3) rolls 14: 14 + 3 = 17, so the guard finds the rogue. With a 13, the guard gets 16 and doesn't.

Step 4 – Attacking an invisible creature:

- Your attack roll has Disadvantage, and the creature attacks with Advantage, unless you perceive it anyway.
- A hidden creature that attacks loses the Invisible condition right after its attack roll, so the attack gets Advantage.
- If you don't know its position, apply the table rules below.

Step 5 – Countering invisibility:

- Area effects (e.g., Fireball): they don't require seeing each target.
- See Invisibility, Truesight: a creature that sees you this way doesn't grant you the condition's benefit (no Disadvantage for it, no Advantage for you). For Blindsight, which perceives without seeing, the DM decides.
- Faerie Fire: the affected creature can no longer benefit from the Invisible condition.

Table rules (homebrew): Table rule

Creations of the author, inspired by the 2014 rules and written in our own words. The DM announces them before combat.

- Swinging blindly: state the location you're striking and roll the attack with Disadvantage. Wrong spot: nothing happens, and the DM only announces the failure. Right spot: the attack resolves normally.
- Using your action: Search action, a Perception or Investigation check to detect the creature through clues (movement, dust, rain...).
- Noise: if the creature makes noise, a Perception check can pinpoint its presence.
- Opportunity Attack: an invisible creature leaving a reach doesn't provoke one if its exact position isn't detected. Those who would have one can make a Perception check.

⚠ Rule clarifications (answers found on the web, reworded):

Hidden, invisible, found

A hidden creature has the Invisible condition, which ends when a creature finds it. Blindsight and Truesight reveal it.

Hiding again

After attacking, you need the Hide action to hide again, unless you have a special ability.

Opportunity Attack and blindness

A Blinded creature can't make an Opportunity Attack: it must see the one leaving its reach (except with Blindsight).

Darkness and Darkvision

Not all magical Darkness blocks Darkvision: only Darkness whose text says so does (the Darkness spell, for example).

Notices: This work includes material from the System Reference Document 5.2.1 ("SRD 5.2.1") by Wizards of the Coast LLC, available at https://www.dndbeyond.com/srd. The SRD 5.2.1 is licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License, available at https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/legalcode. Unofficial sheet, 5E compatible (2024 rules), neither approved nor sponsored by Wizards of the Coast. Rules come from SRD 5.2.1; where the SRD gives no answer, explanations rely on our own interpretation. The "Table rule" parts are the author's own creations. Borders, banner, texture, titles, layout, table rules and examples: © Jaja, all rights reserved. Sources: SRD 5.2.1 (official English version); rule clarifications cross-checked with answers found on the web and reworded; numeric examples are invented; last revised: November 2026. Fonts: TeX Gyre Pagella (GUST), DejaVu Sans, Noto Color Emoji (OFL).