Level 3 – transmutation
Casting time: action · Range: 30 ft · Components: V, S, M · Duration: Concentration, 1 minute

You choose a willing creature within range. Until the spell ends, its Speed is doubled, it gains +2 AC, has Advantage on Dexterity saves and gets an extra action on each of its turns.

That action can be used only to Attack (one weapon attack), Dash, Disengage, Hide or Utilize. When the spell ends, the target is Incapacitated and its Speed is 0 until the end of its next turn.

🎲 Quick summary:

1. Speed ×2, +2 AC, Advantage on Dex saves.
2. A limited extra action (Attack, Dash, Disengage, Hide, Utilize).
3. Concentration, 1 minute.
4. At the end: Incapacitated and Speed 0 until the end of its next turn.

⚠ Change from 2014

In 2024 the extra action no longer allows casting a spell, and the ending is harsher: the target is Incapacitated and immobile.

⚠ Flaw in the rule and fixes Table rule

Casting Haste on yourself just before a fight wastes duration. Fix: cast it in combat, or plan the concentration.

💡 Narrative option: Table rule

The DM can describe the target as a blur: everything around them seems slowed.

Step 1 – Choose the target:

A willing creature within 30 ft (yourself included).

Step 2 – Benefits:

Speed doubled, +2 AC, Advantage on Dexterity saves.

Step 3 – Extra action:

Each turn, the target can take one more action: Attack (one attack), Dash, Disengage, Hide or Utilize.

Step 4 – Concentrate:

If you lose Concentration, the spell ends.

Step 5 – The end:

The target is Incapacitated and its Speed is 0 until the end of its next turn.

Example: Brann (Speed 30 ft) under Haste: Speed 60 ft, AC 18, two attacks a turn, but when the spell ends he loses his next turn.

⚠ Common questions:

Does Haste allow a spell?

No: the extra action is limited to the listed actions.

Can I cast it on myself?

Yes: willing creature, yourself included.

What is the extra Dash?

Extra movement equal to Speed (already doubled).

Does damage break Concentration?

Yes: Constitution save.

What happens at the end?

Incapacitated and Speed 0 until the end of the next turn.

Extra attacks?

Only one attack with the extra action.

⚠ Debate points and table options: Table rule

Haste on a caster

Can a spellcasting target benefit? Option: no, per SRD 2024.

End of the spell

Can a 0-Speed target flee? Option: no.

Haste and Dodge

The extra action doesn't include Dodge. Option: keep it.

⚠ Rule clarifications (answers found on the web, reworded):

Extra action

It only allows the listed actions, never casting a spell.

Concentration

Damage requires a Constitution save.

End of the spell

The Incapacitated condition is tied to the end of the duration.
