🎲 Quick summary:

1. You choose a visible creature within 60 ft.

3. It regains 2d4 + spellcasting ability modifier HP.
4. A creature at 0 HP stands up.

⚠ Flaw in the rule and fixes Table rule

The spell is a Bonus Action: it falls under the Bonus Action spell rule (only one spell per turn, except a cantrip). Fix: announce the rule before the game.

💡 Narrative option: Table rule

The DM can describe a breath of light, a murmured word that closes the wounds.

Step 1 – Choose the target:

A visible creature within 60 ft.

Step 2 – Cast:

Bonus Action, V component. You spend a level 1 or higher slot.

Step 3 – Healing:

2d4 + your spellcasting ability modifier HP.

Step 4 – At 0 HP:

A creature at 0 HP that regains HP regains consciousness (see the HP, Healing and Dying sheet).

Example: Hugo (Cleric, Wisdom +3) casts Healing Word on the archer at 0 HP: 2d4 = 5, + 3 = 8 HP. The archer stands up with 8 HP.

⚠ Debate points and table options: Table rule

The "yo-yo"

Standing up an ally at 0 HP with few HP encourages healing then letting them drop again. Option: keep it; or a raised ally stays prone for a turn.

Bonus Action spell rule

After a Bonus Action spell, only an action cantrip can be cast. Option: apply the rule as written.

Remote healing

The spell allows healing without entering melee. Option: the DM may require a line of sight.

Silence

The component is verbal: the spell is impossible under Silence. Option: follow the text.

⚠ Rule clarifications (answers found on the web, reworded):

One Bonus Action spell

Action and Bonus Action can't be swapped: a Bard can use Bardic Inspiration or Healing Word with the turn's Bonus Action, not both.

Paired cantrip

Healing Word (Bonus Action) and a one-action cantrip (such as Vicious Mockery) are possible on the same turn, because the cantrip uses no slot.
