Combat rule – Creature size and space · SRD 5.2.1

Each creature has a size that sets the space it occupies on the map. A Medium creature takes 5 ft square, a Large one 10 ft, and so on. Size matters for Shoving, Grappling and mounts.

🎲 Quick summary:

1. Small and Medium: 5 ft square.
2. Large 10 ft, Huge 15 ft, Gargantuan 20 ft or more.
3. Allies: you can move through their space.
4. Squeezing: a space one size smaller.

⚠ Change from 2014

SRD 2024 keeps the 2014 size categories and spaces: size matters for Shoving, Grappling and mounts.

⚠ Flaw in the rule and fixes Table rule

The SRD doesn't say how to measure without a grid. Fix: a Medium character takes 5 ft in length and width.

💡 Narrative option: Table rule

The DM can describe a gigantic creature filling the room.

Step 1 – Know the size:

Read it in the stat block.

Step 2 – Place:

Occupy the space in the next page's table.

Step 3 – Move through:

You can pass through an ally's space, without stopping there.

Step 4 – Squeeze:

In a space one size smaller: each foot costs 1 extra foot, disadvantage on attacks and Dex.

Step 5 – Grapple:

Shove and Grapple only work on a target up to one size larger.

Example: an ogre (Large, 10 ft) goes through a 5-ft corridor by squeezing: costly movement and disadvantage.

Size	Space	Example
Tiny	2.5 ft	Rat, cat
Small	5 ft	Halfling, goblin
Medium	5 ft	Human, dwarf
Large	10 ft	Ogre, horse
Huge	15 ft	Hill giant
Gargantuan	20 ft or more	Ancient dragon
